AXA

Sales support

The right presentation is essential for good sales success. That is why the AXA Blueline has an attractive packaging design. Making the Blueline clearly visible on the shelf.

Furthermore, a special display module will be available for your shelves. This module allows your customers to turn the various lighting products on and off and experience them for themselves.

Furthermore, we are always keen to hear your feedback and would be happy to help you create a tailor-made shelf display to take maximum advantage from the available space.
